01:24:40 Martin-MBBI: Fernando will be next...

01:27:09 Angie Warren Child and Family Therapist: No questions, but I am so thankful to have the opportunity to hear from you today, Jeannie. I love learning from others from different cultures and love hearing stories. I look forward to having a chance to hear more from you and others with similar backgrounds. Stories are powerful builders of understanding and empathy!

01:30:35 Martin-MBBI: We probably have time for just one more question, but we will have a breakout session shortly. Please put your questions here and we will do our best to get an answer.

01:30:42 Gwyn: I would love to see a suggested reading list from Jeannie and all presenters so we can continue to learn more. This could be added to the site after the conference.

01:32:11 Chuck Fitzgerald: To purchase tickets for the Peace Pole Raffle, visit <https://pursuingpeace.regfox.com/peace-pole> no later than 2:20 PM (Arizona time, UTC-7)

01:32:36 Nancy Frigaard: Thank you, Jeannie! Wonderful information.

01:36:55 Mary : Similar to Fernando's question... How can we begin to experience Native Peoples as 'other'? What opportunities can we create in Rotary that might be helpful to better integration? The movie Wind River and the show Reservation Dogs have raised my appreciation.

01:37:11 Christopher Brown: Wobbly here. What are the second order effects of that change?

01:37:21 Amber: copy that John-

01:37:59 Loretta Cheeks, Ph.D.: yes

01:38:14 Jeannie Hovland: Thank you all for letting me share today. thank you Chuck for inviting me and letting me be part of this!

01:38:36 john meacham: going to turn camera off and on when needed. lost connection earlier...

01:38:47 Twanna Ray: Thank you for sharing Jeannie.

01:40:36 Jeannie Hovland: Hi Mary. I have been asked to speak at several rotary meetings. I think it would be great to have speakers share about their culture. Thanks for asking and for your interest. That's where it starts and I commend you for that!

01:42:04 Christopher Brown: Appreciate the useful frame you just shared, Martin. It's unfortunate that so many people aren't even willing to be open to such a frame.

01:45:34 Tom Nelson 5500: May we take notes?

01:52:38 Christopher Brown: Great exercise/activity. Enjoyed hearing what recently inspired my breakout room partner.

01:52:39 Twanna Ray: Great experience

01:53:26 Vajiy Scott: great

01:53:34 Melissa Bailey: It was good, constructive listening is vital.

01:54:12 Jaime Reddy: That was very difficult for me! Some ideas and words used were unknown to me so it was hard to follow

01:54:20 Angie Warren Child and Family Therapist: Loved this so much!

01:55:43 Jaime Reddy: I wished I could ask questions. What a great exercise!

01:56:21 Marilee Dal Pra: It was such a treat talking with you Frances!

01:57:11 Vajiy Scott: Not often

01:58:58 Jeannie Hovland: I have to sign off but Thank you all for joining today and for the opportunity to let me share with you all! Many blessings to you all

01:59:58 Chuck Fitzgerald: One of my all-time favorite quotations is "We should be rigorous in judging ourselves and gracious in judging others." ~ John Wesley

02:00:50 Pam Campbell CPLC/Parenting AZ: "Do I want to be 'right' or do I want to be 'successful' " ... if I am so intent on being "right" in the conversation I do not have the ability to take in other perspectives or viewpoints.

02:03:56 Chuck Fitzgerald: To learn more about Positive Peace, visit <https://www.economicsandpeace.org/>

02:07:52 Anna Jeffries - MBBi Tech: How can you learn about and connect with tribes in your local area?

What might come from these new connections?

How might you support native tribes to ensure new policies are just and that old policies are reformed to eliminate any injustices?

Tribal nations often have difficulties relating with other governments along political or racial lines. What are some ways local peacemakers can rebuild trust?

When have I struggled to listen to others in the past?

What do I see as the barriers to having every conversation be constructive?

What can I do to connect with those with whom I do not share the same views?

02:29:35 Betty Lynch: Be open to others you may not understand

02:29:37 April Jones: Awesome group! Thanks all for sharing your wisdom!

02:30:42 Nancy Van Pelt: sometimes it is easier to listen to coworkers and strangers than our own families... we already 'know' what they are going to say/think....

02:30:46 Susan Ness: very sorry, but I must leave for now. Thanks

02:32:59 Angie Warren Child and Family Therapist: We had a wonderful group discussion! Thank you for the opportunity to connect.

02:33:20 Twanna Ray: Thank you Martin

02:33:27 Martin-MBBi: <https://www.menti.com/iwthhxokvt>

02:33:35 Fernando I. Andrade: It was awesome to be able to connect with new friends

02:34:58 Sheila: excellent information from group. one perspective was from a person who grew up in a dysfunctional family and how he has worked to make sure his family doesn't repeat the pattern

02:35:59 April Jones: Sorry took too long to type. Q1 - Give grace to others. Try to understand why they believe what they do. What is their past experience.

Ask what others need. Learn about and respect their culture/values.

02:41:23 April Jones: I love this one!!!!

02:41:48 Pam Campbell CPLC/Parenting AZ: One of my favorite videos of ALL TIME!!!!

02:42:47 Vajiy Scott: Is that a nail?

02:43:02 Vajiy Scott: 🤔

02:43:16 MARK HARBISON District 5000 (Hawaii).: Me too,. I love that video.

02:43:29 Vaneza Chavez: I've used this video in my groups!!

02:51:17 Fernando I. Andrade: that was a great video.

02:51:27 Fernando I. Andrade: great

02:57:25 Jaime Reddy: I love her!

03:13:31 Ken: Thank you great info.

03:13:38 Doug Vincent: Is Chris available to do similar sessions in the future. I am involvtersth out community. support Big Brothers/Sisters in out community. May be a good joint session to do.

03:13:59 Doug Vincent: DougV@DougVincent.com

Raffle, visit <https://pursuingpeace.regfox.com/peace-pole> no later than 2:20 PM (Arizona time, UTC-7)

03:16:25 Christopher Brown: Again, so glad to be part of this conference. If you have any questions about our work at National Fatherhood Initiative or would like to refer organizations in your community to us, email me at cbrown@fatherhood.org. Keep up the peace-making!

03:23:00 Melissa Bailey: Christopher, your presentation was excellent, thank you!

03:29:20 Vajiy Scott: This is amazing

03:31:39 Chuck Fitzgerald: If we are indeed going to raise up new peacemakers, this early childhood development work is critical. These young children need the best of nurturing!

03:34:21 Fernando I. Andrade: it is important to share this info; it is critical for the growth of peace to educate our communities that peace begin at home as well the changes needed on our structural violence system. it is all connected.

03:35:20 #4 tony cerato D5495 Phoenix100: Well said Chuck. The sad reality for too many young ones is their lack of parental/adult understanding and support to provide this nurturing. The challenge is getting this information to these parents/adults.

03:36:05 Chuck Fitzgerald: Tony, I couldn't agree more.

03:37:58 Pam Campbell CPLC/Parenting AZ: LOL...I can TOTALLY relate to the difficulty the older I get!

03:38:07 Angie Warren Child and Family Therapist: This is the core of the work that I do with the children and families I work with as a child and family therapist. Thank you for sharing these important facts and perspective shifting information, Marilee!

03:41:29 Liz Kane - Honolulu Sunset D5000: How will the new child tax credit impact the projected spending in the chart?

03:47:23 April Jones: Love you Marilee! Congrats on your retirement!

03:48:09 Mark Harbison D5000 (Hawaii): The refunding of SNAP has a huge impact as well. Hungry children have a hard time learning.

03:48:21 Pam Campbell CPLC/Parenting AZ: I did not have these tools when my kids were young (back in the days just after covered wagons!) 😊....but we are now a family of early childhood educators and my grandchildren are learning a NEW WAY of thriving, even in the world we currently find ourselves in! 😊 03:48:36 Martin-MBBI: We have Tony Cerato and Fernando next...

03:49:00 Nancy Frigaard: I love the research presented and whole-heartedly agree we need to pour resources into our kiddos. Share wealth, wisdom or work.

03:49:04 Gwyn Nichols: Hospitals show new parents videos on how to provide physical care for babies like bathing. Are they offering training on brain development?

03:49:31 Jay McCall: Marlee

03:50:20 Jay McCall: Do you proactively reachout to Blacks?

03:50:53 Kristen Chuenchum: Marilee, in what ways has Covid increased the challenges Families First faces in supporting families?

03:51:54 Pam Campbell CPLC/Parenting AZ: I often use this resource when working with families of young children:

<https://developingchild.harvard.edu/resourcecategory/multimedia/>

03:52:37 Loretta Cheeks, Ph.D.: Is there an Arizona scorecard that report on the impact of COVID-19? Particularly, for families who parents are essential workers.

03:53:19 Martin-MBBI: What challenges does a father who doesn't live with his children face in creating a peaceful home compared to one who does?

What is one tip that can help dads create a peaceful home that struck you as being particularly important?

What cross-cultural elements of masculinity that men learn growing up make it challenging for dads to create a peaceful home?

Reflecting on your own family life and the community in which you live, are we creating the peaceful, nurturing environments that young children need?

What are we doing right and what more should we be doing?

Is there anything about today's presentation that surprised you or shifted your thinking about the importance of the early years?

Do you believe we all have a role to play in the healthy development of young children? If so, what is your role?

03:54:01 Mary Humecke: Please ask Martin to puthismkeby is mouth

03:54:13 Mary Humecke: his ike

04:08:30 Martin-MBBI: <https://www.menti.com/iwthhxokvt>

04:08:41 Angie Warren Child and Family Therapist: I love that we are getting to connect individually through this process today!

04:09:41 Belia Alvarado: back

04:10:28 Marilee Dal Pra: Hi Loretta! I'm not aware that we have that data yet but here's a link to First Things First's annual report that was just published that includes information about the impact of COVID in Arizona, Here's the link:

https://www.firstthingsfirst.org/wp-content/uploads/2021/09/FY2021\_Annual\_Report.pdf

04:11:33 April Jones: Thanks!!

04:15:47 Fernando I. Andrade: My apologies to everyone, but unfortunately I have to leave to a Dr's appointment. Great presentations.

04:16:26 Fernando I. Andrade: here is my info Fernando I. Andrade , fernan_andrade@yahoo.com. 1-678-300-4707

04:44:49 Chuck Fitzgerald: To purchase tickets for the Peace Pole Raffle, visit <https://pursuingpeace.regfox.com/peace-pole> no later than 2:20 PM (Arizona time, UTC-7)

04:45:09 Ken: preception is reality

04:45:48 April Jones / DES: Love this!

04:46:23 Angie Warren Child and Family Therapist: Thank you for saying this! I so agree with this perspective.

04:47:25 Ken: good point

04:47:30 Betty Lynch: Why don't people simply believe this simple fact of life?

04:50:27 Nancy Frigaard: Curiosity always help calm emotional reactivity. Amen!

04:52:27 Belia Alvarado: BRB

04:53:19 April Jones / DES: Remove the emotion and fear.

04:55:45 Chuck Fitzgerald: No punching in the head!!!

04:58:23 Loretta Cheeks, Ph.D.: Practicing humility. Listening.

04:58:55 Kayla Groening: Do you think civil dialogue within families can be even more difficult because there are more assumptions going into the dialogue; ie. we "think" we know what the other family member's experience is because we were there for that experience or we assume there is "sameness" (we are so much alike (socio-economic background, race, etc), so therefore should think alike?

05:03:26 Nancy Frigaard: Human being before a political party.

05:03:28 April Jones / DES: How do we bring civility back to all sectors?

05:04:02 April Jones / DES: Perfect after lunch speakers!!

05:05:25 Zarrin C.: Yes to Kayla's question because you are also more emotionally involved and expect family members to be there for each other. If one discovers they aren't, it can also be very painful.

05:09:57 Betty Lynch: I agree with Chuck Tell me to go to hell and I'll ask you which road they'd prefer I take.

05:10:10 Linda Morris: I remind myself to not take things personally.

05:10:48 Dave Drum - J17 Ministries: When we're offended, it's in part because we've overidentified with a political party. In other words, part of our identity is wrapped up in politics. We ought to be able to have an exchange of ideas without getting defensive or offended.

05:11:13 Angie Warren Child and Family Therapist: Thank you Clyde! Our personal history is a story that needs to be told and heard by others without judgment. Curiosity, as Nancy F commented earlier is the ultimate tool for creating space.

05:11:45 Dave Drum - J17 Ministries: Setting the table - very helpful!

05:13:14 Loretta Cheeks, Ph.D.: Watching this movie on who to listen and respond in difficult relationships. A Beautiful Day in the Neighborhood

05:13:25 Loretta Cheeks, Ph.D.: Food and good coffee helps too.

05:16:22 Chuck Fitzgerald: Kindness goes a long way.

05:19:25 Zarrin C.: "The 7 Principles for Making Marriage Work," by Dr. Gottman ... an excellent book for exercises on remembering all those things that our spouses mean to us in a positive way and despite disagreements.

05:26:51 Chuck Fitzgerald: 2 pillars of peace - love and trustworthiness

05:40:51 Chuck Fitzgerald: I think I've been all four of these characters at one time or another!

05:41:15 Ken: I am with chuck

05:41:19 Linda Morris: I've been a blend of two of the characters at times.

05:41:54 Jec Dan Borlado D3850 Iloilo PHILS: i can relate to Eddie, escape

05:42:09 Marilee Dal Pra: I think I may have a new nickname, Contessa!

05:42:37 April Jones / DES: Me too Marilee!

05:43:03 Nadine Smith: Shame: Don't want to show myself (expose)d

05:45:27 Chuck Fitzgerald: Amen!

05:54:07 amyschultz: Please fix it so I can be seen. Thank you.

05:54:52 amyschultz: I can not start my video.

05:55:21 amyschultz: Thank you

05:56:53 Martin-MBBI: What does a good disagreement look like?

How do you create a space in your thinking for different views?

How to move forward when you have a disagreement?

How is "guarding our heart" similar to the airplane safety analogy of putting on our own oxygen mask first before attempting to help another person?

Is it possible to be an effective and lasting peacemaker when we don't have peace within ourselves?

When we look at how human beings respond to conflict by blame, shame, control or escape, what is our typical first reaction? (Remember, we all lean toward one or two coping behaviors). How does our particular response (blame, shame, control or escape) destroy peace?

The antithesis of blame, shame, control and escape are: boosting or encouraging others, self-assurance, cooperation, balanced give and take, and staying reliably engaged or connected. How might changing our unhelpful coping mechanism to one of these healthy actions result in peace?

06:20:31 Martin-MBBI: Put in your key learnings here.. ^

06:21:51 Jon Lyons - Sun Lakes Rotary: Good discussion, one observation was the 'significant content' that we are seeing/hearing today, and we need to determine how we will utilize going forward

06:25:31 Betty Lynch: I've attended every one of Chuck's Peace conferences and today has raised questions in my mind from way back to my childhood that I have never considered in my lifetime.

06:27:34 Amber: enough

06:27:35 Betty Lynch: confused

06:34:37 Gwyn Nichols: A peacemaker is a healer—of oneself and others.

06:34:39 Zarrin C.: ... someone who can make heart connections.

06:34:43 Chuck Fitzgerald: someone who wills the benefit of others, and acts upon it

06:34:45 Justine McDilda, DES-DCSS: A person who is there to support their fellow human, no matter the religious influence or requirement.

06:34:49 Kevin Pitts: peacemakers are those who can hold the tension of yes and during conflict and turn down the noise

06:34:49 Dave Drum - J17 Ministries: a courageous, humble listener and challenger of the status quo

06:34:53 Twanna Ray: someone who listens deeply and attempts to understand; not looking to win.

06:35:08 April Jones / DES: A peacemaker is someone who brings light into the darkness.

06:35:13 Linda Morris: A peacemaker is someone who sacrificially serves as a bridge to God's love by exhibiting intentional understanding, grace and reconciliation.

06:35:19 Jeanie Morgan: A peacemaker is someone who listens without judgment and finds ways to value everyone, looking for the core goodness we can all build upon.

01:06:53 Martin-MBBI: Who is invisible in your community/circle of influence?

What is the most challenging principle of peacemaking for your right now and why?

How can you better show up as a peacemaker at home and in your community?

What have you let occur in your peace radius that now looks like it was a bad idea?

How might you better control your peace radius? What specifically?

What ideas do you have from increasing your area of influence?

01:08:11 Gwyn Nichols: I am also trying to help someone evacuate from Afghanistan and it has been a tough month day and night. I influence my friend's thoughts and feelings and the communications among many people helping, but I have no control!
